

Friends share car rides, not pills.

Illicit (illegal) fentanyl is a street drug that can cause overdose or death. It's showing up in fake pills that look like real prescription OxyContin, Adderall, Percocet, and Xanax.

You can't tell by looking whether a pill has fentanyl in it.

Only take medicine that has been prescribed to you, and don't share it with friends.

Because friends help keep one another safe.

Everyone deserves to live,
and anyone can be a friend for life.

Your friends care what you think.

Use your influence to encourage them to:

- Try out for a sports team
- Apply for an after-school job
- Do what makes them feel healthy and happy

Speak up if you see them being pressured to try fake prescription pills or other drugs. Because friends look out for one another.

Everyone deserves to live,
and anyone can be a friend for life.

This is your prefrontal cortex.

It helps you make safe choices, and it's still growing.

That can make it hard to decide if something is risky or not.

The fact is taking pills that aren't prescribed to you is never safe.

Illicit fentanyl is a street drug that can cause overdose or death. It's showing up in fake pills that look like real prescription OxyContin, Adderall, Percocet, and Xanax. The risk to your brain and body just isn't worth it.

Everyone deserves to live,
and anyone can be a friend for life.
